

Fabrizio Anzalone Assumes Leadership as the Head of SCM North America

As of Monday, May 6, Mr. Fabrizio Anzalone takes over the management of the United States, Canada, and Mexico subsidiaries of SCM.

Anzalone is a dynamic and accomplished executive leader with over two decades of experience in driving growth and success within the industrial sector and spent the last three years leading the SCM France subsidiary. His career trajectory spans across various roles in locations including Europe, the United States, and Brazil, each marked by transformative leadership and strategic foresight.

With a master's degree in mechanical engineering from Turin Polytechnic, Anzalone cultivated a profound understanding of technical intricacies coupled with a strategic mindset in the realm of industrial business management.

Anzalone's objective is to continue the action led by his predecessor Giuseppe Riva with the support of the SCM North American team to continue the growth and development of the Group in the American, Canadian and Mexican markets.

“I accept with great pleasure the honor to lead the North American Region. The company has the ambitious ability to grow and increase market share by developing new partnerships and new technologies while emphasizing focus on customer support and service management. This specific market is crucial to SCM Group’s overall development; my predecessor, Giuseppe Riva, did an excellent job in his time with the company and I look forward to continuing the path of success.”

Anzalone’s tenure at SCM Group France for the last three years stands as a testament to his ability to enact positive change and revitalization within organizations. As managing director, he spearhead a remarkable turnaround steering the company from a period of uncertainty to one of stability and expansion. Through decisive go to market strategy, talent acquisition, and attention to collaborative leadership, Anzalone successfully doubled sales revenues from 2021 to 2023.
